

Adult Strabismus

Adult strabismus disorders are treated by pediatric ophthalmologists.

Adult strabismus generally falls into one of the following categories:

- Uncorrected childhood-onset strabismus
- Childhood-onset strabismus for which eye muscle surgery was performed, but significant eye misalignment persists or recurs
- Acquired strabismus from orbital or head trauma, stroke, brain tumors, thyroid-related eye disease, or prior ocular surgery